VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING

If you want internationally recognised qualifications, real workplace experience, and practical skills aligned with current industry standards, Adelaide offers exceptional Vocational Education and Training (VET) programs. Courses are offered across all major industries, from entry-level certificates to Advanced Diplomas.

The highest education standards

VET providers in Adelaide meet strict quality standards set by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA), ensuring your training is of the highest standard and aligned with industry requirements.

Taught exclusively by industry experts

All VET teachers and trainers in Australia are required to have current industry experience. This means all courses provide hands-on learning, and some courses also include valuable industry placements to help you gain practical skills from professionals with up-to-date knowledge.

More pathways to study and work

Once you gain your VET qualification, you can easily continue onto further study, with some qualifications providing credit or direct entry to university programs. Vocational providers also offer industry work placements, giving you the chance to build professional skills and make valuable connections with employers in your field. In a competitive global market, students with relevant industry experience on their CV stand out from the crowd.

FUN FACT

Vocational qualifications are in high demand and are expected to make up 53% of the skills needed in South Australia's workforce over the next five years¹.

HIGH QUALITY SCHOOL EDUCATION

Safe and inclusive education

Schools in South Australia prioritise education, wellbeing, and personal growth, providing a secure and supportive environment that fosters a positive learning experience. With a strong reputation for preparing young minds for life through supportive, inclusive and well-rounded education, South Australia produces students who are empowered to thrive academically, socially and personally.

Excel with extracurricular activities

South Australian schools offer a wide range of extracurricular activities and subjects, allowing students to explore their personal development while achieving academic success. These activities, including literacy and academic projects, artistic performances, ethical and inter-cultural understanding, contribute to a well-rounded education. Camps and excursions, in particular, give students a real Australian experience, allowing them to explore nature and learn about local culture, helping them feel more at home in South Australia.

Safe and supported accommodation for school students

A variety of accommodation options are available to help students feel at home and supported during their studies.

Homestay

A homestay gives students the opportunity to live with a local family, offering cultural immersion, language practice, and meals in a safe, accredited environment. To ensure comfort and security, prospective homestay families undergo national police and background checks, in-home interviews and complete home inspections. Schools work with homestay providers to arrange the right match for students. It's a wonderful way to settle into your new home town, have an Australian experience, and make lifelong friends.

Boarding school

Some independent schools in Adelaide provide the option of on-campus accommodation for students through boarding houses. These facilities offer a structured setting that supports both academic and personal development. Students are supervised by dedicated staff and have access to meals, utilities and tailored academic assistance, alongside a variety of extracurricular activities. The boarding environment fosters independence while promoting social engagement in a diverse and multicultural community.

Nominated accommodation

You can nominate to live with a relative or family friend while studying. A relative must be approved by the Department of Home Affairs, a non-relative or family friend must be accredited as a nominated homestay.

Preparing young people to study, live and work successfully in a changing world

There are seven general capabilities that your child will gain at school in South Australia alongside their academic learning to prepare them for future success: critical and creative thinking, literacy, numeracy, information and communication technology capability, personal and social capability, ethical understanding and intercultural understanding.

Primary Education

South Australia's primary school system spans from Reception to Year 6, catering to students aged approximately 5-12 years of age. The curriculum covers a broad range of subjects, including English, mathematics, science, technology, health and physical education, the arts, and languages, providing students with a strong foundation for future learning. Primary schools offer an enriching experience, guided by highly qualified teachers who are dedicated to supporting both academic and personal development.

Secondary Education

South Australia's secondary school system begins at Year 7 and runs through to Year 12, serving students aged approximately 13-18 years. Students have the opportunity to combine university and Vocational Education and Training (VET) subjects with their high school studies, providing flexible pathways to further education and career opportunities.

Secondary schools in South Australia feature world-class facilities and industry-leading teachers, equipping students with the knowledge, problem-solving skills, critical thinking and confidence required to thrive in a rapidly changing world. South Australian Certificate of Education (SACE) (Years 11-12) is offered in all high schools in South Australia. Select schools also offer the International Baccalaureate (IB).

Globally recognised school curriculum

The South Australian Certificate of Education (SACE)

The South Australian Certificate of Education (SACE) is a modern, internationally recognised secondary school qualification designed to equip students with the skills, knowledge, and personal capabilities to prosper in our fast-paced global society. It provides pathways to employment and further education, giving students more flexibility to choose subjects that reflect their interests, talents, and career goals.

SACE subjects are made up of investigations, performances, and other assessment tasks to showcase unique personal abilities, and provide theoretical and practical, hands-on, action-based learning both inside and outside school. SACE students generally complete five subjects per semester, giving them time to develop their understanding of topics, grasp complex ideas, make connections between concepts, and apply their learning to real-world scenarios.

Upon completion of Year 12, students receive an Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) based on their academic results. The ATAR is recognised for entry into all Australian universities and Technical and Further Education (TAFE) institutions, along with many universities around the world.

International Baccalaureate

The International Baccalaureate Diploma Program (IBDP), typically completed during Years 11 and 12, offers a challenging and rigorous academic curriculum comprising six subjects, designed to develop students into global citizens. The IBDP is recognised by universities worldwide and is highly esteemed for admission to Australian and international higher education institutions. Students receive an IB Diploma score out of 45, which is also converted to an ATAR, providing a pathway to university entrance both in Australia and abroad.

Government and Independent Schools

South Australian schools run by the government or privately-owned independent schools are both internationally recognised for providing high-quality education from early learning and primary school through to secondary school. Parents may choose between them based on factors such as cost, educational approach, religious connection and the desire for specialised programs or extracurricular activities.

COST OF LIVING

It [Adelaide] has a lower living cost compared to other capital cities in Australia, and it only takes me 20 minutes to escape from the CBD to the beaches or hills. In Adelaide, I work to live, not live to work.

- TIFFANY, HONG KONG

COST OF LIVING

In Adelaide, you're closer to the quality of life you aspire to. With lower rent, food and public transport costs than most major Australian cities, you will be able to afford more of what Adelaide has to offer.

Accommodation

Adelaide has a range of accommodation options to suit your budget, lifestyle and preferences. With major campuses clustered together in and around the city, you can enjoy a balance between study, work and life. Choose from a range of accommodation options including:

Public transport

If you want easy and affordable transportation that's only dreamt of in most cities, Adelaide is the place to be. The city offers one of the shortest work commute times in Australia². Adelaide Metro has frequent and reliable public transport services, including buses, trains and trams, and has among Australia's shortest wait times¹, so you'll spend less time waiting and more time doing the things you love. All tram routes within the CBD are free, and there's a free city connector bus which links many of the city's most popular places.

Full-time international students enjoy the same benefits as domestic students for public transport, and receive a 50% discount on a regular monthly metroCARD, offering unlimited travel during the month.

Cycling is also an affordable way to get around Adelaide, with bike paths and lanes throughout the city. A grid layout and compact design also makes Adelaide easy to walk around and explore.

Personal development

Our annual International Student Awards recognise and celebrate international students for their academic excellence, community service, peer support and unique initiatives.

Employment Connect supporting you to achieve career success

From preparing you to apply for jobs to connecting you with potential employers, StudyAdelaide is here to support you. StudyAdelaide's Employment Connect includes programs such as the award-winning Job Shop which is designed to connect international students with hundreds of job opportunities and businesses actively looking to employ them. Additional support is offered through initiatives like Regional Careers Tours, the Employment Toolkit, Feedback Central, and micro-credential employability programs, which help you prepare for graduate roles.

Celebrate your culture

Adelaide hosts a wide range of cultural celebrations throughout the year, including Lunar New Year, Diwali and Holi, attended by students from all backgrounds. In collaboration with the Adelaide Festival Centre, StudyAdelaide hosts an annual event 'Students Got Talent', which showcases international students' musical, dance, and performance talents.

Experience the best of Australia

Come to Adelaide and experience the real Australia - you'll quickly make friends with locals (and other international students!). If you've ever wanted to meet a koala, or hang out with some kangaroos, StudyAdelaide hosts events at Cleland Wildlife Park where you can do exactly that. We'll show you around iconic regions such as the Barossa and Kangaroo Island, and we also host beach days where you can experience a real Australian BBQ.
